The Future Tiger Woods Of Swimming?

CHARLOTTE - Mujahid El-Amin II rarely races swimmers because he rarely has a competitor splashing at his heels.

This 10 year old races stopwatches and chases national records.

At the AAU Junior Olympic Games swimming competition at the Mecklenburg Aquatic Center, Mujahid burned through the pool setting seven (7) AAU National Swimming Records on his way to collecting seven (7) gold medals.

With his head down most of the way and the lead his a quarter way through the race, Mujahid won the 100-meter freestyle in 1:04.75, nearly ten seconds faster than his closest competitor. He won the 100 breaststroke in 1:24.16 with an almost 14-second margin. All of his times in all races would have made him a respectable competitor among even the 17 and 18 year olds.

Mujahid is a different kind of competitor, one weaned since age 3 in the water not of private swimming clubs but of the city recreation pools of Atlanta. He is African American and arguably a Tiger Woods of Swimming which like golf, has yet to attract many minority competitors.

Only time will tell if he continues to progress in the similar footsteps of Woods. For now, he just swims because he enjoys it, "I love the water. I love to win," he said. "I think I'll always be a swimmer."
