PUERTO RICO WINS GOLD

DETROIT – The team of Camila Rosado and Marla Delgado defeated Iulia Cerbu and Danielle Vortisch of Canada to win the gold medal at the AAU Junior Olympic Games Beach Volleyball competition. The competition open to qualified teams in the Girls U16 Division had teams from the USA, Canada and Puerto Rico. Camila Rosado in her fourth AAU Junior Olympic Games finishing with the silver medal in the U14 Division in New Orleans Junior Olympic Games in 2005, finally earned the gold medal and the Joel Farrell Outstanding Athlete Award. In perhaps the most difficult match of the day was the opening round against another Canadian team, Taylor Simons and Julia Hamer in a match that went three games.

The competition was close with several three game sets in the medal round playoffs. Finishing with the Bronze Medal was Ashley Standish and Kathryn Conner from Southern California.
